New Centroc Chair Pays Tribute to Immediate Past Chair

"I'm very pleased to have been appointed the Chair for the Board of Central NSW Councils and pay tribute to the enormous contribution made by outgoing Chair, Cr Phyllis Miller to the Central NSW region" said Councillor Ken Keith, Mayor of Parkes and newly appointed Chair of Centroc.

"Cr Miller's passion for the Central NSW region and her dedication to advocating for the social and economic wellbeing of our communities has been outstanding," said Cr Keith.

"Centroc continues to grow as a dynamic organisation leading the way in regional collaboration. As newly appointed Chair I acknowledge the importance of councils working together to the benefit of their communities and the region as a whole. It is by working together, sharing our knowledge and resources and advocating for the infrastructure and service needs of our communities that we will achieve great results for Central NSW," said Cr Keith.

"I also note that there are a number of new and enthusiastic Mayors and General Managers on the Centroc Board who will add value to the wisdom and reputation of the organisation," said Cr Keith.

"The new Centroc Executive appointed at the Annual General Meeting in Grenfell today includes, Deputy Chair, Cr Bill West (Mayor Cowra), immediate past Chair, Cr Phyllis Miller (Forbes), Cr Maree Statham (Mayor, Lithgow), Cr Monica Morse (Mayor, Bathurst) and Cr John Davis (Mayor, Orange)", said Cr Keith.
